HAND-MADE PAPER FROM NEPAL

This hand-made sun-dried paper is made from branches of the Daphne bush, locally known as 'lokta'. The partial harvesting does not harm the plant, and some of the Daphne bushes have been supplying fiber for 200 years. The family that makes this paper has been producing traditional paper for generations. It is acid-free, soft, long lasting, non-tearing and insect proof (used by the Nepalese government to keep valuable records).

STATIONERY PACKAGES

Handmade recycled cotton & hemp "floral" paper from India. All stationery comes in packages of 20 in the following colours: Aster blush, hemp with rose petal, marigold with herbs on yellow paper, cornflower. Stationery also comes in solid colours, handmade lokta paper, also in packs of 20. Colours are natural, lemon yellow, spring green, cornflower blue and raspberry. Suitable for laser printers.
